The Directors of Reactive Zero Two value ethical decisions being taken in procurement of its resources, and to us sustainable procurement is about using procurement practices and working with our supply chain to enhance social, economic and environmental outcomes over the entire lifecycle.

This policy applies to our workforce, business partners, suppliers and sub-contractors working on our behalf.

SUSTAINABLE PROCUREMENT PRIORITIES:

Compliance: We will ensure that legal and responsible sourcing practices are applied to selection of our supply chain, adhering to all local or national regulations.

Material Efficiency: We will always give preference to materials, products and services with the greatest circular-economy benefit to achieve waste reduction.

Sustainable products: We will identify and implement sustainable products and services in the work we do, and implement sustainable certification schemes where available and relevant.

Social Value: We will look to maximise the additional social value we can deliver to local communities, through employment opportunities and spending locally, with Small and Medium Enterprises in the areas we work in.

Modern Slavery: We will always identify and minimise the risks of modern slavery within our supply chain.

SUPPLY CHAIN EXPECTATIONS:

We expect our suppliers and subcontractors to comply with all applicable requirements or as otherwise confirmed by Reactive Zero Two. We require our suppliers and subcontractors to notify Reactive Zero Two if they are going to use subcontractors of their own to support a Reactive Zero Two contract or order of works.

Suppliers and contractors are required to provide a copy of their modern slavery policy or statement during the procurement process. We will communicate this policy to our employees, supply chain partners and relevant interested parties. This statement shall be subject to an annual review.
